Nominated for two Academy Awards. Another 20 wins &#amp;#39; nominations. Find out more about the award » For more information, edit Madame Souza, an elderly woman who instills in her grandson Champion (for anyone who she is his protector) a love of cycling. At a young age, he becomes a dedicated road racer with his grandmother as his trainer. Between the mountain legs of the Tour de France, where the champion is racing, he goes missing. Evidence indicates that he will be kidnapped. Indeed, he and two of his competitors have been kidnapped, kidnappers who want to use the unique skills of a threesome for vicious purposes. With champion overweight and loyal pet dog Bruno on side, Mrs Souza goes in search of a champion. Their trek will take them to the town of Belleville abroad. Without money, Mrs. Souza and Bruno get along well with three eccentric elderly women who were once famous jazz singer group Triplets in Belleville. Triplets help Madame Souza and Bruno find and rescue the champion. It was released as a Belleville rendezvous in the UK. The film was Chormet's first feature film, with international co-productions between companies in France, the UK, Belgium and Canada. Voices by Michel Cochetoe, Jean-Claude Donda, Michel Robin and Monica Viegas will be screened. There is little dialogue. Much of the story is told through songs and pantomimes. This tells the story of Madame Souza, an elderly woman who is kidnapped by the French mafia for gambling purposes and taken to Belleville City (Amalgam[3] in New York City, Montreal and Quebec City, on a quest to rescue her grandson champion, a Tour de France cyclist. She is accompanied by the champion faithful and obese hound, Bruno, who she attends to the triplets of Belleville, a 1930s music hall singer she meets in the city. The film was highly praised by audiences and critics for its unique style of animation. The film was nominated for two Academy Awards for best animated feature and best original song for Belleville Rendezvous. It was also screened at the 2003 Cannes Film Festival from the Competition (Auth Competition). In the French plot, Mrs. Souza raises her grandson, a champion (a melancholy orphan). Both watch old variety shows on TV featuring a trio of singers, Belleville's triplets. When the program is interrupted, Souza asks the champion if the movie has ended. The listes champion does not reply and instead changes the channel to a piano concert. Souza, when he notices the champion's interest in music, pulls out an old piano and plays the scales to try to get the champion's attention, but the champion remains indifferent. Souza guesses that the champion is lonely and buys him a dog, Bruno. No Bruno, no train, succeeds in lifting the spirits of a champion. While clearing the champion's room, Souza discovers a book full of pictures of cyclists. She decides to buy a tricycle to the champion and eventually allows the champion to indulge in his passion. After several years of training, the champion competes in the Tour de France but is left in fatigues and he is kidnapped by a pair of mobsters who take him and two other contestants across the Atlantic. Souza pursues champion in pedaro to Belleville. When she arrives in the U.S., Souza finds pennillities, but meets Belleville's elderly triplets. The triplets take Souza to their apartment and after a peculiar dinner they allow her to join one of them as a musicianDuring the show, Souza finds a mob that kidnapped the champion. With the help of triplets, Souza pursues the man and rescues her grandson after a homeric chase. In Flash Forward, you imagine an older champion watching a variety show again and Souza asking again if the movie is over. The champion says to the empty sofa seat next to him, It's over, Grandma. Review aggregator Reception Rotten Tomatoes reports that 94% of the 150 critics surveyed gave positive reviews, with an average rating of 8.18/10. Consensus reads: Loaded with richly detailed and surreal touches, Belleville's triplets are a strange, fun charm. [5] Assign normalized scores Metacritic rated 91/100 based on 35 reviews, showing a universal rating. [6] Awards The film was nominated for two Academy Awards: for best animated feature, 13-year-old animated film, the first pg-13 animated film to be nominated in that category. And best original song (Benoît Charest and Sylvard Chomet for the song Belleville Rendezvous sung by Mathieu Chedid in the original version). The film lost the best animated feature award to Finding Nemo. He also won the César Award for Best Film Music and co-produced with Canada, winning the Jeannie Award for Best Film[8] and the BBC Four World Cinema Award in 2004. Belleville's Triplets had its world premiere at the 2003 Cannes Film Festival. Received two Academy Award nominations: Best Animated Feature And BestSong. The New York Times praised the film, saying it turns into sweet, sinister, unfaithful, grotesque, charmingly funny, forbidden gloom, and could be the odd movie of the year. It may also be one of the best tour de force of ink cleaning, hatching pranks and unlikely sub-limits. Cartoon Brew called Belleville's triplets a valuable rarity among 21st-century animated works and expressed them as full of creative ambition and style innovation. Av Club applauded its style, saying that the film is best treated as a unique marvel: an ingenious trap that is bemaint, fun, attracted and repulsed with all the mysteries and subtiles of the miniature world.
